

MIDWEST ARCHAEOLOGICAL FIELD SCHOOL 2017

AN383: Archaeological Field School

Earn summer credit while doing archaeology! The Oakland University Midwest Archaeological Field School 2017 will teach students how to conduct pre-field historical and environmental research, archaeological survey and excavation, artifact identification, and laboratory processing. Students will survey several local areas that hold the potential for both historic and prehistoric archaeological sites. Students are also able to commute to research locations and return home daily. No other travel arrangements are necessary!

Summer Term I
8 May-28 June
2017

4 Credits

Schedule:
T-W-R 9am-5pm

Contact:

Dr. Jon W. Carroll, Ph.D., RPA
Assistant Professor of Anthropology

533 Varner Hall

(248) 370-4453

jwcarroll@oakland.edu

OAKLAND UNIVERSITY

Department of Sociology,
Anthropology, Social Work
and Criminal Justice

2200 N. Squirrel Road
Rochester, Michigan
48309-4401